Notes

• Do Business and Management or Computing have some sort of pamphlet/page we can use that describes how a computer workstation should be set up ergonomically? If not, I know I have something somewhere and will either find that or look for something on the Internet.